Caring for olive wood

Olive wood is dense and lasts a long time with very little care.

Every day

Wipe with a soft, dry cloth to remove dust.

Now and then

If the wood looks dry, rub in a few drops of food-safe mineral oil or a wood-bowl oil, leave it for a few minutes and wipe off the rest. Once or twice a year is usually enough. Avoid cooking oils such as olive oil, which can go rancid.

Bowls and boards

Wash quickly by hand with a little mild soap and dry straight away.

Please avoid

- Soaking in water.
- The dishwasher.
- Radiators, heaters and long hours of strong sun.

Small changes in colour over time are natural and part of the wood’s character.
